Going to the Wall

That's what our new season's wall dressings are rapidly doing. The first shipment of entirely new designs for 1905 has come to hand and is now ready for inspection. The beauty of these wall papers is wonderful and the artists have easily outdone the efforts of any previous season.

ROSENBERG
ACQUITTEDBray Receives Sentence on Conviction on Same Charge.

Morris Rosenberg was acquitted of making false statements on seamen's allotment notes, by a verdict of the jury rendered in the Federal Court at 8:25 last night. The jury went out about 4 o'clock and had dinner at the Young in the midst of its deliberations. James L. Ward, C. L. Wight, E. R. Biven, W. R. Riley, Edwin Benner, Wm. H. Charlock, W. W. Hall, Charles Hustace Jr., John Emmeluth, Jess L. Woods, H. F. Wichman and C. F. Herick constituted the jury.

District Attorney Breckons conducted the prosecution and L. M. Straus the defense.

BRAY IS SENTENCED.

Captain Isaiah Bray, superintendent of the Sailors' Home, who was convicted of the offense whereof Rosenberg has been acquitted, was sentenced in the forenoon to pay a fine of $50 and costs. The weight of the sentence came in the costs. These had been swelled by the expense of detaining the Starbuck sailor witnesses in Oahu jail. The amount was $234, so that Capt. Bray's total fine was $284.

Judge Dole, in passing sentence, mentioned that he had known the defendant for many years as a good citizen, a man of integrity and blameless reputation. In his dealings with seamen he should have consulted the law, whereas he had neglected this precaution. He had committed the offense thoughtlessly and without knowing that it was a violation of law.

D. L. Withington, counsel for Bray, had made a plea for clemency. He said said the offense was a statutory one and new in Honolulu. The defendant had declined his advice to take an appeal. Judge Dole expressed regret that appeals were not often taken from that court, as in some matters, however strongly he might feel, other minds might take different views.

JONES OBTAINS
HIS TITLE CLEAR

Judge Weaver yesterday rendered a decree in the Court of Land Registration, granting a clear title to P. C. Jones of the property in the case respecting which an attack had been made in the Senate upon that court.

It had transpired that the late-discovered flaw in the chain of title was more apparent than real. The Kapio-lani Estate, Ltd., which held the combination, through some clerical or notarial neglect in the past, readily gave a release to the property.

CONFIDENCE

said Lord Chatham, "is a plant of slow growth." People believe in things that they see, and in a broad sense they are right. What is sometimes called blind faith is not faith at all. There must be reason and fact to form a foundation for trust. In regard to a medicine or remedy, for example, people ask, "Has it cured others? Have cases like mine been relieved by it? Is it in harmony with the truths of modern science, and has it a record above suspicion? If so, it is worthy of confidence; and if I am ever attacked by any of the maladies for which it is commended I shall resort to it in full belief in its power to help me." On these lines

WAMPOLE'S PREPARATION has won its high reputation among medical men, and the people of all civilized countries. They trust it for the same reason that they trust in the familiar laws of nature or in the action of common things. This effective remedy is palatable as honey and contains the nutritive and curative properties of Pure Cod Liver Oil, extracted by us from fresh cod livers, combined with the Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites and the Extracts of Malt and Wild Cherry. It quickly eradicates the poisonous, disease-breeding acids and other toxic matters from the system; regulates and promotes the normal action of the organs, gives vigorous appetite and digestion, and is infallible in Prostration—following Fevers, etc., Scrofula, Influenza, Asthma, Wasting Diseases, Throat and Lung Troubles, etc. Dr. W. A. Young, of Canada, says: "Your tasteless preparation of cod liver oil has given me uniformly satisfactory results, my patients having been of all ages." It is a product of the skill and science of to-day and is successful after the old style modes of treatment have been appealed to in vain. Sold by all chemists.

THE STANDProgress of Magoon
Disbarment
Case.

L. H. Dee was on the grill for cross-examination by Attorney Ballou nearly all of yesterday in the Magoon disbarment case. It came out that when he bid at the execution sale for the Nuuanu property Frank Hustace had conveyed to W. H. Smith he was acting as the authorized agent of the Kamalo Sugar Co. There were six notes for $1000 each given by him to the company, which gave him an indemnity bond for $10,000 for any damage he might sustain as agent. A deed was put in evidence from Dee and wife of the Nuuanu property to the company, which had never been recorded. David Dayton, treasurer of the company, had made no demand on him for the deed. It lay in the keeping of Magoon as his and the company's attorney.

Witness was positive he spoke of the proposed bond by Hustace as a precedent condition to Hustace's transfer of his property to avoid execution, to Attorney Robertson. Dee, on being questioned about his former life, admitted certain collisions with police regulations. He was "one of the boys," but had been a pretty good fellow since 1885.

E. C. Peters, who was Magoon's law partner when Hustace paid the $150 fee, testified that he understood the retainer was for the purpose of ascertaining whether there was law under which "a creditor's bill" could be brought by the Kamalo Sugar Co. against Egan and Foster, the co-judgment debtors of Hustace. That at least was the work given the witness to do in the matter. Peters would not venture to relate conversations that took place so long ago.

F. Wundenberg, a business associate of Magoon and a Kamalo man, gave evidence of his understanding of the company's dealings with Hustace.

J. Lightfoot, the respondent's associate in law practice, was the last witness of the day and held the stand until 5:12 p. m., when the trial was continued until 10 o'clock this morning. He had voluminous exhibits in hand, from which he read copious extracts. Minutes of Kamalo Sugar Co. and of its directorate showed the following things:

Dee authorized by company to bid $4000 for lot 5 (Nuuanu property).

Indemnity bond of $5000 from company to Dee authorized.

Dee to give notes to K. S. Co. for purchase price of land bought under execution.

Dee appointed a committee of one to act with J. A. Magoon, to ascertain what was to be done about the property of Frank Hustace, relative to recovery of balance of judgment in the Kamalo case.

Fee of $500 to J. A. Magoon for services to given date as attorney of K. S. Co. H. R. Hitchcock signs as secretary of meeting when this vote of a fee was made.

Directors authorized Dee to bid for 1485 shares of K. S. Co. stock at a price not to exceed $2.50 a share provided the court would allow the expenses of sale.

Lightfoot, answering the respondent, said the latter and himself made a report under date of July 14, 1903, on the matter of the execution against Hustace. The report gave a history of the Kamalo affair beginning with the judgment by Judge Humphreys against Hustace, Egan and Foster, which the Supreme Court modified by cutting down attorney's fees from $20,000 to $7,500.

DOGGIE'S COSTLY MEAL.

It Costs Its Owner One Hundred Francs and a Lawsuit.

The complainant in a recent law suit at Narbonne, France, made oath that he was one day dining on the "terrace," or open air space fronting on the sidewalk, where French people are wont to take their meals in summer. He had just begun to eat his soup when it occurred to him to count some money that he had a short time before received. In counting it he accidentally let fall a 100-franc bank note into his soup.

Instantly he fished it out of the plate with his fork and sent the soup away; but the bank note was saturated and he laid it down on the tablecloth to dry. He was going on with his meal when a little gust of wind blew the bill off the table. Its owner jumped after it, but a wandering dog which had been hungrily watching the meal was quicker than he, and seized it. The taste of the soup on the paper made it an edible thing to the animal, and it was swallowed in an instant.

And then the man who owned the bill was, though bursting with rage, reduced to the humiliation and insincerity of saying: "Good doggie! Come here, nice doggie," and to the employment of smiles and wincing ways, in order to get near enough to the animal to read the name engraved on his collar. But he succeeded, and when he had made a note of the name, he assisted the "good doggie's" rapid departure.

Next he brought a suit against the man who owned the dog for the restitution of the 100 francs; and the court at Narbonne, after hearing the evidence and the pleas at great length, decided that the owner of the dog must pay the other man the money.

EPILEPTIC
INSANITYNaone's Defense Stated.
W. H. Pain Enters Exceptions.

Epileptic insanity would be the defense set up for Philip H. Naone to the charge of murder, Attorney Dunne announced in his opening of the case for the defendant before Judge De Bolt yesterday afternoon. It was a form of insanity which the medical scientists had established as being hereditary. Proof would be offered that Naone's great-grandfather lived and died an epileptic, also that the defendant himself had been subject to fits of epilepsy in childhood and since.

Mrs. Jessie Turner Naone, mother of the defendant, was the first witness. In describing her grandfather's affliction she "threw fits" on the stand so realistically as to chill the beholders. The old man was subject to fits until he died. His grandson Philip also had them in his youth. The last time witness knew of was on the day before he killed his wife. Previously the latest she recalled was when Princess Like-like's body lay in state. This was seventeen years ago.

By the production of a witness therefore unexpected, whose evidence was highly sensational in revealing a well-defined motive, the prosecution in the forenoon made a dramatic closing of its evidence.

Mrs. Ella Mitchell, a young native woman, was the witness. She testified that Naone had frequently made love to her and was eager in his addresses. His response to her objection that he was a married man with a family was that if she promised to marry him he would get rid of his wife.

As a matter of course the defense will call medical experts to sustain its insanity theory. On the other hand, it is understood, Attorney General Andrews will call in rebuttal several physicians who had opportunity of intimate observation of Naone for several years, when he was employed in the office of the U. S. Marine Hospital Service.

COURT NOTES.

Martin Hiku was sentenced by Judge De Bolt to pay a fine of $25 and costs, on his plea of guilty to maintaining and conducting a lottery.

In each of the two actions to quiet title of Lucy K. Peabody and T. R. Mossman, respectively, against H. R. Macfarlane and others, the executors and heirs of the estate of H. A. Wide-man, deceased, Judge De Bolt denied a motion to dismiss the complaint. The property involved in each suit consists of one road 18 perches of land at Pamo, Honolulu, and 92-100ths acre of land in the III of Pau, Oahu.

W. H. Pain by his attorneys, Holmes & Stanley, has filed exceptions to the report of E. A. Mott-Smith, commissioner in the accounting suit of Frederick Harrison Haystack, administrator of the estate of Walter Murray Gibson, deceased, vs. W. H. Pain and Elise S. V. Neumann. He expects to make the leaving out of certain accounts in making the awards, and to the various awards against himself—indeed, to practically all of the commissioner's findings.

WOMEN IN MEDICAL FIELD.

Out of 15 applications for the post of assistant medical officer of the Gracebridge (Lincolnshire, Eng.) lunatic asylum, Miss Jessie B. Hunter was selected. Miss Hunter has occupied the position at a private asylum in Lincolnshire since 1902, and has held the position of assistant house surgeon at Glasgow Infirmary. She is a M. B. and C. B. of Glasgow university.

Dr. Mary Stone, of Australia, sent a paper to the national women's congress urging the establishment of "epileptic colonies," in view of the fact that the ranks of criminals are continually and materially reinforced by children, weak-willed, moral and physical degenerates who are easily led into vice, and she asks for the segregation of these unfortunate that their kind may not be multiplied.

Taking credit that belongs to others receives no one so much as yourself.

Dr. L. Rosa Minoka is a young Indian doctor, who, having won honors as a graduate of the Women's Medical college of Pennsylvania and served with credit as resident physician of the Women's hospital, of Philadelphia, has now opened an office in the city. She is said to be not only a fine doctor but a handsome and interesting young woman.

It is said that there are now in France 80 women doctors, 30 of whom are in regular practice. The way, until within the last 25 years, has been made very difficult for women who desired to practice medicine. There is little chivalric feeling in the country, and open derision and insulting refusal to all applications for opportunities to study have been the rule. Today there is a great revulsion of feeling—or manner—and at present the woman doctor is encouraged and smiled upon—a pleasant change.

All the new laws are being published in the Commercial Record in handy shape for reference prior to their publication in book form.
